

FROM OLD, GREY STUMPS

Frequent rainfall throughout the summer provided ideal conditions for a seed to sprout from a crack in an old, grey stump in our backyard. The new life of a fresh green leaf juxtaposed against the grey decaying remains of an old tree trunk provides hope of renewal.

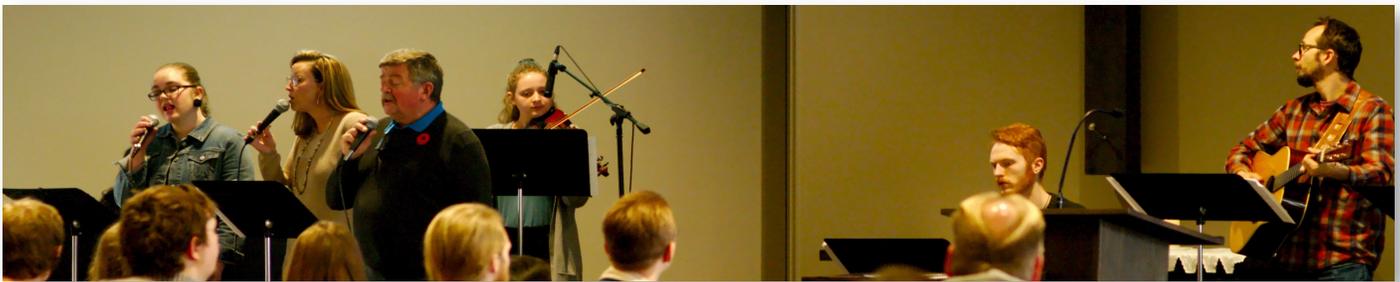

Identifying various losses and disappointments in our lives in recent months comes quickly for most; celebrations cancelled, reduced budgets, winter get-away plans scrapped, the list goes on. We've become accustomed to virtually every routine either dying or becoming significantly altered. Discouragement threatens as we survey the deteriorating remains of our old lives.

Take hope. These remains provide fertile ground for new life to emerge. First death then resurrection; this is God's way of working in our world. Page through this booklet to learn about the opportunities and activities for learning about the power of God to resurrect life and how this is relevant for your life. You are invited to join any of these events. We trust and pray you will find yourself in a place to receive the nourishment needed for new life to sprout and grow.

Our first session will be on WEDNESDAY October 7th at 1:30PM in the sanctuary.

The goal is that everyone who attends an event at Resurrection feels comfortable, respected and safe to be in a facility together. The following outlines the measures being taken and any accompanying procedures for this to take place.

Significant efforts have been made to adhere to the Guidelines for Places of Worship as provided by AHS. In virtually every facet of ministry adherence has been made possible. Signage and verbal announcements at Resurrection's gatherings provide updated details and serve to highlight specific procedures relevant to the particular ministry activities.

COVID-19 PROTOCOLS

It is requested that upon entry and exit of the church building every person completes the self-screening assessment as posted and sanitizes his/her hands.

Gathering for events at Resurrection requires that individuals are distanced two meters apart from one another if they are not part of the same household or cohort. Out of respect for each other and to ensure the safety of everyone, it is requested that a facemask is worn where two meter spacing is not possible. Facemasks are provided free-of-charge in the foyer of the church at the hand sanitization stations.

All children and youth programs follow similar structure and procedures as local school boards have established.

Food or drink will not be provided by Resurrection at this time. Individuals are welcome to bring their own and are asked not to share with others.

Registering for events using the Church Center App ensures contact tracing can be completed should this be required. Data is kept on file for two weeks following each event for this purpose and is then deleted.

Thorough cleaning of all hard surfaces that may have been touched will be cleaned by trained custodial staff.

Guidelines are subject to change according to government guidelines. Measures of vigilance may be stricter should numbers of active cases in Camrose increase and according to the guidance provided by the Resurrection Elder board.
